Tech Smart The privilege of using technology devices & resources requires the need for personal responsibility. Technology use opens doors to the world where there is both positive and negative information. We need to develop smart social networking skills to protect ourselves and become effective users of information.

The use of technology devices builds digital footprints. Communicating, adding information, comments, photos, audio, video and web surfing all contribute to an online profile. Be aware and be smart when using technology devices.

Stop in the Library for your Smart Social Networking Bookmark!
